

Important Notice – Windows Activation Not Required for Normal Use

All of our computers come with Windows 11 Home pre-installed.

Activation is not required for normal day-to-day use.

The system will work perfectly fine without activation, including access to apps, games, internet, and system performance.

Notice Regarding Windows Installation on Our Devices

Each computer includes a 30-day trial period of Windows 11 Home, with full features and functionality available during this time.

After the trial ends, you will see a notification suggesting you activate Windows with a valid license key. However, this step is optional.

What Happens If You Don't Activate Windows?

You can continue using the system without any performance issues.

The only differences are:

Limited access to personalization settings (e.g., changing wallpaper or accent colors)

These are cosmetic limitations only. The system will remain fully functional and stable, and no files or programs will be affected.

If desired, you can activate Windows at any time in the future.
